BLAINE WILL BE IN IT!

It is Stated on Good Authority that He Will be a Candidate at the Minneapolis Convention.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Sun this morning says after the extended conversation which ex-Senator Platt, Whitelaw Reid, Gen Horace Porter, and other republicans high in the councils of the party, had with Mr. Blaine yesterday, the closest friends of Mr Platt said they had it from his own lips that Mr. Blaine had decided not to interfere with the presentation of his name before the convention at Minneapolis, that it was Mr. Blaine's intention not to return to Washington until after the convention, and that by the close of this week he would leave for Maine and go to Bar Harbor later on.

A New York Policeman Charged With Criminal Assault.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Roundsman Matthew F. Dally, of the New York police force, brought Mrs. Annie Hannan before a police justice yesterday and charged her with intoxication Mrs. Hannan told a story which completely turned the tables on the roundsman She said that the officer had induced her daughter Mamie, a girl of sixteen years, to go to a saloon with him, and that while there he criminally assaulted the girl, despite the latter's vigorous resistance and cries for help. She added that she went to Dally to demand that the wrong he had done her child be righted, whereupon he arrested her for intoxication and disorderly conduct. The girl, who was present in court, confirmed her mother's statement, and Mrs Hannan was immediately discharged. A formal charge of criminal assault has been drawn up against Dally and he will have a hearing today.

J Williams, claiming to be a railroad man. A watch was kept on the postoffice and telegraph office with the result that last night when a young white man, aged twenty-three years, stepped up to the counter and called for a message to that name he was at once taken into custody. Williams denies all knowledge of the crimes.

SWINDLED THE COMPANY

Bryant B. Crandall Shams Death and His Wife Gets His Insurance Money.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 25 A sensational arrest has been made by the police here. About April 1st, 1891, Bryant B Crandall, of Buffalo, N Y., after insuring his life for about $10,000, disappeared. His clothing found on the bank at Niagara Falls seemed to point to suicide. Three months later a dead body was found below the falls and answered Crandall's description. Crandall's wife and relatives positively identified the body as that of Crandall and part of the insurance money was paid. The insurance associations being still suspicious the matter was taken into court in March, 1887 Crandall was seen on the streets of Los Angeles by a prominent citizen of Buffalo, and the New York authorities were notified They commenced a search for the man, but he had disappeared. Some months ago Crandall was again seen in Los Angeles and again disappeared. From that time Chief Glass and his detective force have been on his track and he was finally located at New Hall, this county, where he was working a petroleum well When the officers reached New Hall Crandall had again disappeared but was easily traced to this city and located in the county hospital where he was being treated for injuries received in the oil country last Thursday. Chief Glass and Detective Mollett arrested him and he was conveyed to the city prison, where he has since been confined The matter was kept secret for fear of habeas corpus proceedings The New York authorities were notified of the capture and a requisition was forwarded to Governor Markham, and tomorrow Detective Diehl, of Buffalo will arrive here for his prisoner.

CONVENTIONS.

Kentucky Democrats Are in Session—Cleveland Men Have a Majority in New Jersey—Over in Ohio.

LOUISVILLE Ky., May 25—The democratic state convention, which met at 2 o'clock today was an entirely representative body and every action it takes is decisive. In the very organization of the assemblage a test case will come up on the contest of a temporary chairman As far as can be ascertained the convention is divided into two elements, those who are for Cleveland first, last and all the time and who will be contented with nothing less than a delegation of out and out Cleveland men, and those who are in favor of a free delegation, left with discretion to decide what is the best to be done after they reach Chicago and have surveyed the whole ground

A sensational feature of the fight cropped out yesterday when at a private meeting of the Cleveland forces, the name of General John B Castleman, chairman of the state central committee, was placed before the committee as one of the delegates from the state at large He was indorsed as the choice of Cleveland's friends That action meant war. Louisville it is well understood cannot send two delegates from the state at large The convention will never agree to this. Henry Watterson and General Castleman will fight it out At the meeting which indorsed the latter yesterday afternoon many of the most prominent democrats in the state and city were present They were the friends of Cleveland and seemed to fully recognize the fact that Mr. Watterson was dead against them. This afternoon in the convention the scions of democracy will fight it out

TRENTON, N. J., May 25—At a late hour last night it was determined by the leaders of today's democratic state convention to name delegates to Chicago that the convention would not be asked to instruct for Cleveland, but some fear was expressed this morning that a resolution of instructions would be sprung on the convention. It will be hard to keep it from going through, as the Cleveland men have a large majority of the delegates.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, May 25—The republican congressional convention of the Fourteenth district was called to order in this city at 11 o clock today, with a large attendance. Hon. Henry C Hedges, temporary chairman, delivered a brief address, which was received with much enthusiasm. This district is now represented by Hon. M. D Hunter, democrat, who will be renominated without opposition next Tuesday

SWEET MUSIC.

Madames Zeisler and Bishop Charm a Large Audience.

Masonic Temple was the scene last evening of a gathering of the cream of Fort Wayne society. There never was a more refined and intelligent audience than the one which assembled there last evening to greet Mrs. Fannie Bloomfield-Zeisler, the renowned pianist, and Mrs. Geneva Johnston-Bishop, noted for her exquisite soprano voice. The occasion was the last number of a series of entertainments given by the Morning Musical, an organization including in its membership the names of a vast portion of the leading ladies of our city. The entire affair was gotten up and managed by the ladies of the organization and was the most brilliant of the season None but invited guests were present. Mrs. T. E. Ellison received at the door and presented the guests to a bevy of pretty young ladiers, who in turn seated them. The ushers were the Misses Anna Bond, Edna Meyer, Clara Zollars, Minnie Hoffman, Edith Zollars, Mamie Evans, Helen Smyser, Emma Rurode and Helen Moffat, and they performed their tasks speedily and gracefully.

OUR POLICE BOARD.

C. F. Muhler, Henry C. Paul and Geo. Gale Elected—Mr. Muhler Declines—The Commissioners Interviewed.

The most important question before the common council last evening was the election of a board of police commissioners The ordinance creating the partisan police commission was read a third time and passed The provisions of the ordinance have been published in these columns The ordinance was passed by twelve democratic ayes against eight republican nays Mr. Schiedt moved that the rules be suspended and three commissioners be elected. Messrs Fox and Pettit were made tellers Messrs H C Paul, Geo. Gale and C F Muhler were nominated On the first ballot Paul received 20 votes, the entire vote of the council. The second ballot resulted Muhler, 11, D S Foster, 8, Gale, 1. Muhler was declared elected, and the third ballot resulted Gale, 12, Romy, 8, and Gale was declared elected.

There can be no question as to the excellent fitness of the men elected, for they are prominent and esteemed citizens who have the welfare of the city at heart Mr Muhler is one of our foremost business men, and on account of his connection with the city affairs while mayor, would be well qualified to act Mr Muhler this morning said emphatically that he would decline the position, Messrs Paul and Gale have virtually given their word of acceptance. Mr. Paul is a conservative man and will have the best interests of the people at heart in his mind as police commissioner Mr Gale is eminently qualified to have a place on the board, having had practical experience. He has expressed himself openly for good government and an enforcement of the laws. Mr. Gale was for seventeen years deputy superintendent of the house of correction in Chicago, during most of which time he says a non partisan board governed the institution to the satisfaction of everybody.

Hon. C F. Muhler was greeted at his place of business at an early hour this morning by a SENTINEL reporter, who cornered the genial ex mayor and settled down for a talk.

"You want an interview, eh? Well, fire away," said Mr. Muhler.

"You are aware of your appointment to the police commission, Mr. Muhler," said the reporter

"Yes, I am aware of it," was the response

"Have you decided to accept?"

"I have decided not to accept. In fact, I had fully made up my mind to that effect yesterday when I was approached on the subject, and I then declined to entertain the thought of being a candidate. I will positively decline to accept the position, although I heartily think the council who elected me."

"Will you give you reasons for declining the place?"

"The most I can say is that I don't see how the commission is going to help matters much, and that it throws upon the shoulders of three men a responsibility that is by no means to be desired a responsibility that would seem to belong to those in the municipal harness I can't see where the commission is going to help matters Under these considerations, and owing to my business, which requires a good deal of time, I think that I am justified in not accepting the commissionership"

"Why do you think that the police commission will not help matters?"

"Because the mayor must govern the city after all. It is the mayor who must say whether there shall be a liberal construction of the laws or whether there shall be a rigid enforcement of them He is the chief executive of the city and the statutes of Indiana provide that he is the man who shall govern these matters The police commission must act under his dictation. Now what is the use of the mayor issuing his orders and then go outside and pick out three citizens to enforce them? It will harass them not a little and make them lots of enemies. In declining the position offered me I would hate to have it thought that I am trying to shirk a duty. My honest conviction is that it is a responsibility thrust upon a citizen, whose remuneration will be to please many people and displease many more. And then when we have our commission how much better off are we?"

Henry C. Paul was found in company with Hon C F Muhler, Councilmen Michaels and Fox. Three of them seemed to be trying to convince Mr Muhler that he ought to accept Mr. Paul said that he wasn't ready to be interviewed by newspaper men yet but thought he soon would be

"Have you decided to accept the position?" ventured the reporter.

"No, I have not, he answered

"Have you decided to not accept?" asked the newspaper man as a further stimulator

"I have decided nothing yet and you must please don't say anything in the paper until I do decide"

"You regard the police commission a good thing don't you?"

"Now, I am not ready to talk."

"Well, if you do think it is a good thing you will certainly accept"

"I am just now trying to argue myself into accepting the place and am trying to make Mr. Muhler feel the same way about it"

"Granted now that you will accept, will you be in favor of enforcing the laws to the letter?"

"Now, here, Mr. Reporter, I don't want you to say anything in the paper until we know more about this thing You put hold off"

"But if you become a member of the police commission in the interest of the people and think believe that the commission is a good thing, it stands to reason that you will favor an enforcement of the laws.

"Of course"

A reporter found Mr George Gale at his residence, No 19 Madison street He said that he had not anticipated his election to the police board. but that he would undoubtedly accept He preferred not to sold out to an interview until he had conferred with Mr. Muhler and Mr Paul

"As yet," said he, "I do not know what power the commissioners will have Some say the mayor will promulgate his orders and the commissioners duty is to enforce them. Others say that the commissioners will take it in their own hands"

"Are you in favor of an enforcement of the laws?" asked the reporter.

"It would not be wise for me to define my position as a member of the police board until, as I say, I know more about it As a citizen I am law abiding and believe in having the laws respected I am in favor of putting good men in the police department—men who are not creatures of the political machine Too often men unpublished and wholly unfit are kept in position simply through influence The police department is a very important one to the city's welfare, and men who serve on the board that governs it are sure to make enemies There is one way to run the police department and that is the right way I think that one of the first good things the board might accomplish would be the suppression of gambling houses"

It is easy to see that none of the newly elected police commissioners fully comprehend the power they will sway over the police department. There is a difference of opinion as to whether it will be the duty of the board to follow the mayor's orders or whether it will have controlling power itself. Mayor Zollinger sets this question clear He said to a SENTINEL reporter: "If the commission wants me to give the orders and they execute them, all right If they want to take the matter in their own hands, all right. Anything to have the laws enforced, but as things have been I could not enforce them With a good commission it would be different and the police department would be run as it ought to be. If the newly elected police commissioners will not serve I am willing to take the responsibility entirely upon myself if the council will give me that power as they can do under the revised charter. If the council will vest me with that power I will give my word that I will exercise it and enforce the laws."

Fifteenth Wedding Anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Greenwell.

BORNE TO HIS GRAVE.

The Funeral of Hon. F. P. Randall—The Bar Pays Its Tribute to the Pioneer Lawyer's Memory.

The funeral of Hon F P Randall took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, 115 East Berry street The services were conducted by Rev A W Snavely, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church of which the deceased was a member The attendance was very large and a long line of carriages followed the remains to Lindenwood, where the interment took place.

The pall bearers were Active—Frank M Randall, Irwin Randall, Geo E. Randall, Alfred M Randall, James R Mercuradis, W Reel Dugan, Dr John C Downs, Clark Unbank, these gentlemen all being sons and relatives of the deceased. Honorary—A P. Edgerton, Dr J S Irwin, William H Jones, Henry W. Bond, D P. Morgan, Judge John Morris, William T. Abbott and P A Randall

The bar of Allen county paid their tribute to the memory of Mr Randall who was one of the oldest members of the association, at a meeting held this morning in the circuit court Judge C M. Dawson presided as chairman and Robert R. Hanna was secretary. The bar had held a preliminary meeting yesterday and Judges Coberly, Coombs, Morris and Lowry were appointed a committee to draft resolutions suitable to the memory of the deceased These resolutions were read at the meeting this morning by Hon. J. K Edgerton, after which speeches eulogistic of the dead were made by Judge C M. Dawson, Judge John Morris, Col R S Robertson and T. E Ellison

The resolutions, omitting an extended biography of the deceased, were as follows

Franklin P. Randall, at the time of his death was, with one exception now living in this city, the oldest in years and service of the members of the bar of Allen county

The resolutions then speak at length of his distinguished attributes as a citizen, lawyer and official, of his sterling integrity, of his career as mayor, of the sorrow of the bar at his decease, and concludes as follows

Resolved, That the career and public service of Franklin P. Randall, during his life and residence of more than half a century in this city, entitle him to rank as one among the foremost of the venerable and now deceased pioneer citizens of Fort Wayne, who laid the foundation of its prosperity and who added in its material and moral advancement to its position as one of the chief cities of the state.

Resolved, That Mr. Randall as a lawyer was well informed in his profession and faithful to his clients and the law His mind was strong judicial and well balanced, impartial and just. He possessed a rare equinimity of temper and kindness of heart, which won for him the sincere regard of his associates at the bar. He was an honest and fair practitioner, and took no part in the tricks of the pettyfoger or lawyer of low degree, which sometimes and oftian upon a profession, which should ever be one of truth and honor. His nature was genial and social and his manners courteous and attractive His mind was rich in the fruits of a long life of reading and observation in all facts and reminescences which make hard history he was an authority and freely gave of what he per esset. He had no personal enemies and provoked no one to enmity, for the simplicity and cordiality of his nature and manners invited friendship and forbade or disarmed enmity His personal character was above reproach. He was a man of robust frame and manly presence, a man of pure morals, temperate and self controlled. His domestic life was exemplary and his home was a genial and happy one. He was an affectionate and faithful husband and father and his sons and daughters have cause to honor him and to revere his memory. He was a hospitable man cordially responsive to all social claims, and his home was a well equipped and attractive one to all whom he numbered in his list of friends, and he had no enemies The death of such a man, even in the rounded fullness of a long life, where its works has ceased to be more than an example, is a great public loss, and not alone do his associates at the bar, but the people of the city, and all who knew him, mourn for him in a manner where place cannot soon be filled. He leaves to his family the rich memory of an unstained man, and to the city he loved so well and served so long and faithfully, the record an example of an honorable and well spent life

Resolved, That the judges of the circuit and superior courts, respectively, be requested to order this memorial to be entered upon the records of those courts and that an engraved copy, duly attested be delivered to the widow of the deceased and that the same be also published in the press of this city

Resolved, That as a further token of our respect, the members of this bar will attend the funeral of the deceased.

Drunkards and Drunkardmakers.

Intoxicating liquor inflames the lower passions, and when drunk to excess expores its victims to every kind of aggravated crime. Politically speaking drunkenness is also treason, because it voluntarily unfits a man for the duties of a good citizen, and those legislators, who uphold drunkard making, are guilty of both treason and perjury. For are they sworn to support the constitution, which declares that its primary object is to "insure domestic tranquility and promote the general welfare"

We will have no controversy on this subject but respectfully solicit some one or more of those who aspire to legislative honors to give us a few good sound reasons why the foregoing statements are not logical and true.

TERRIBLE ITCHING

Used Everything Five Months. In Three Weeks not a Scar or Pimple. Cured by Cuticura.

When my baby was three weeks old he broke out with what we thought was a few pimples, but they grew and spread all over his face and body, and became very sore. After we tried his blood, which was terrible. After we tried everything we could hear of for nearly five months. Hopes were lost by us and our friends. An advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies in the Boston Weekly Herald induced us to try them. We purchased Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura and commenced their use. In three weeks' time there was not a sore, a pimple, nor even a scab to be found. He has been months old now, and has not had a single pimple on his face or body. He has been as healthy as he has a beautiful head of hair (see portrait below with).

MRS. ANNIE JAMES, Woodside, Kan.

My infant, eighteen months old, was afflicted with eczema on the lips. Had some sores on other parts. All remedies failed until I procured Cuticura. Cured a year and no return of disease.

ALL that was mortal of Hon. F. P. Randall was laid in the grave today. This is the last sad act in the career of a man who was an honor to our city. Long will his memory live.

The Pittsburg Times has fallen in line with those newspapers which are recuring handsome buildings. We have received a card for the opening of the Times' new home on the 31st inst.

The city council selected three excellent men last night for police commissioners. Paul, C. F. Muhler and George Gale enjoy the confidence and esteem of our citizens and, although a partisan board, their selection will give general satisfaction.

The Lafayette Courier, one of the best and brightest local newspapers of the state, has increased its size, donned a new dress and moved into a new building of its own. This evidence of its growing popularity is gratifying to the Courier's newspaper friends, and The SENTINEL joins with them in wishing our contemporary long life and increased prosperity.

The National Methodist conference in session at Omaha adopted resolutions condemning the house of representatives for refusing to allow an investigation of the liquor traffic to be made, and praises the supreme court for its decisions. They denounce the existing government for criminally being in collusion with the liquor men, whereby licenses are issued to manufacture spirits, and demand that no Methodist patronize any one directly or indirectly engaged in the business, condemn any Christian who would vote for a liquor dealer, and pledge the support of the church to all associations bonded together to down the liquor traffic.

The observance of Decoration day, or, as it is now more properly called, Memorial day, is said by some authorities to have originated at the South before the close of hostilities, having been inaugurated by southern women, who, by almost imperceptible degrees, established the custom each year in early spring of decorating with flowers the graves of their dead. The truth seems to be that the custom grew up spontaneously among the survivors of the dead soldiers. The practice of setting aside a day for the purpose took its rise early in the war, first in particular places, here a city or there a village or country community, until finally it became general.

LINDWOOD cemetery never looked more beautiful than now, when nature has added so many charms to the attractiveness of the city of the dead, and many are visiting it every day to arrange the graves of their beloved dead for Decoration day, which occurs next Monday. It is a sad and yet a consoling mission for the living to visit the sacred places where lie the bodies of their departed ones. Memory seems to call back the forms they loved so well and the fountain of tears is ready to flow at the connection forced upon their minds that those who lie in the grave have gone from them forever on this earth. But, happy thought! Though dead they yet live, and in the great beyond there will be a reunion where soul will meet soul, where parting will be no more and joy will reign throughout the ages of eternity. All this is made possible by the realities of religion the death of Christ upon the cross, and as the visitor at the graves of the dead realizes this he cannot but be impressed with the glorious plan of redemption and the resurrection that God in His infinite wisdom and love has arranged for us. Let the living then adorn the places where their loved dead rest, let them strew flowers over their graves, and do honor to their memory. It is a beautiful custom and one that will continue as long as Christianity lives to teach men of an immortality beyond the tomb and inspire them to nobler, grander lives.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ASSESSMENT AND TAXES.

Your committee on assessment and taxes, to whom was referred the following resolution:

Int. In relation to the petition of "Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co." Lincoln Seminary association, that the taxes on west one-half of lot 1 in block 1 in Lincoln Seminary association be abated, and the taxes on the portion of said lot owned by them on West Main street, be apportioned to the value of the same, as the purchase was not made or Mr. Lowry until after April 1st, 1891, and that the City Clerk be instructed to issue a warrant to the grantor would be liable. That it appears from the assessment roll of 1891 that if when the taxes were assessed, but as the council has passed the ordinance for the sale of the same and for the reasons said need, we deem it right that the city should be reimbursed, that amount be abated, hence, we recommend that the city clerk be and is hereby authorized and instructed to collect for the year 1892 the taxes of 1891 on said property.

2. In relation to the claim of H. C. Hanna, as guardian of Carson heirs as to erroneous assessment of taxes on the west half of lot 10, 53, in the city addition: In the year 1890, by mistake the property was assessed to Carson heirs at $5,625 in 1891 it was assessed $120, which is the correct value, and the taxes for the year 1890 paid to the city treasurer correct the duplicate in accordance with petition, and the assessment of 1891 be made $120, instead of $5,625 as stated for, and that the clerk would be authorized to credit the New York Chicago and Saint Louis railroad, to the brick sewer, the sum of $5,505, and pay the balance remainder for the excess paid on first installment, being $36.63.

Wounded at Cettysburg

ac C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass:

"I was in the Army of the Potomac and in the great battle of Gettysburg was struck in the ankle by a minie ball, which remained in the foot. My foot was amputated in the field hospital, and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and went home. After 8 years

My Wound Broke Open

afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years how I suffered! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. Finally this did not heal, and to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. When, for possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiates, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully. I thought I should go crazy. Hired every thing I could get with the limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my and it broke out all over my face and in some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with sores now. One day I read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first dollar I paid out bought a bottle and began taking it. In a week or two later, my wife in dressing my leg, said it

A LADY ADVISES LADIES.

A Few Secrets from Her Own Experience Which Can Be Profitably Adopted by Others.

I know a charming lady who knows more beautiful and attractive women than any other lady in the city. In conversation recently, she said: "I often feel very sorry where I see so many beautiful women so delicate, and suffering so much, and I have often asked myself what the reason is? I think ladies do not exercise the proper care. They do not eat nourishing food, they are careless of their feet, their dress, their diseases. In this way they open the door for disease and those thousands of troubles which my sisters suffer unnamedness, but worse than all they allow their life and strength to run down to a low ebb. How much better we see constantly in this condition. They need help, they need something to depend upon, something that will assist them, some friend in need. I know this, largely, from my own experience for I was once in the same condition myself. I thought the matter over carefully, and decided what I would do. I knew I needed a gentle, constant stimulant, something that would sustain my forces, keep my blood circulating and act as a tonic. I decided to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and its effect has been simply wonderful. I do not know what ladies, sickness or weakness are and I am satisfied ladies generally could be in the same happy condition by a proper use of the same means."

This ladies's remarks are entitled to the greatest consideration, for they are an index that of what hundreds of ladies have found to be a necessity. It should be born in mind however, that it is only pure whiskey which should ever be used, and that Duffy's Pure Malt is the only one which receives the endorsement of scientists and the recommendation of physicians. Do not allow any druggist or grocer to induce you to take any other.

RAILWAYS AND SHOPS.

Sad Ending of a Long Life—Accidents and Incidents of the Day Arranged for Our Readers.

James Cooke, an old man, was run down and killed at Lafayette, Ohio, a small station in Van Wert county, Monday afternoon, by Pittsburg train No. 20, the "Columbian" express. As the train approached the station the engineer noticed the old man standing near the track, but beyond the danger line. When the engine was within fifty yards of him, however, he started to cross over to the depot, but was not quick enough, and the engine picked him up and hurled him aside with such force that he died almost instantly. Mr. Cooke, had he lived a day longer, would have been eighty-two years old.

The anniversary was to be made the occasion for a family reunion and a grand gathering of the friends and neighbors. Extensive preparations for the festivities were in progress at the time of the accident, but were abruptly ended when the bleeding remains were carried to the home, where the younger relatives were so busily engaged in getting ready for the party. The coroner exonerated the trainmen from all blame.

Henry Baker, a vender of patent medicines, whose home is at Van Wert, lost one of his hands Monday by being run over by a Pittsburg passenger train at Convoy, Ohio. It is claimed that the injured man was intoxicated at the time of the accident, and just how it happened no one seems to be able to explain.

WHAT WAS IT?

Could it Have Been Consumption—The Case of Mr. Fred Eggiman, a Life Long Resident of Fort Wayne.

No interview of the kind was ever published in Fort Wayne that will awaken such general interest, comment and investigation as that of Mr. Frederick Eggiman, of 73 Oakley street, this city. His reputation was so remarkable, almost miraculous, the condition from which he has been recovering so apparently hopeless, that one will scarcely be able to believe the truth of it when it is placed before them.

Describing his condition before placing himself under the treatment of the Stackhouse Medical Institute, we give his exact language in the following. "I am thirty-seven years of age and am now employed at the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago freight house. I have lived here all my life and was always strong and healthy until about four years ago, when my health became very much impaired, as a result of catarrh and bronchial trouble. When I was in health I weighed 225 pounds, but gradually lost flesh until I ran down to 165 pounds during the course of my trouble

"I had severe headaches, poor appetite, impaired memory and became very despondent and down-hearted. I took cold very easily and my nose became stopped up, so that I could not breathe through it for the past two years. I did not sleep well at all, was often hard for me to go to sleep, and I would be restless and wakeful all through the night. I was always hawking and spitting to clear my throat, had a constant cough, very severe pains in chest and raised a great deal of matter which seemed to come from my lungs, also had hemorrhage of the lungs. Suffered from heartburn, palpitation and indigestion. Caught cold very easily and short of breath after exertion. Had night sweats, chills and fever.

"Since taking treatment at the Stackhouse Medical Institute all this is changed. I have gained in weight from 165 to 182 pounds and am picking up every day. My head is free from pain. My nose is open. I sleep well. My appetite is good. I don't cough once now where I did one hundred times before I began to take treatment. I have not had hemorrhages since I began to use the medicines. The night sweats, chills and fever have stopped and I now feel hopeful and light-hearted, because every indication points to a speedy and thorough cure of my case.

"Everybody said that I had consumption and no one ever thought to see me better again. I want to state firmly and emphatically that every word of the above is true, and I feel that I cannot find words strong enough to express my gratitude and the gratitude of my family and friends over my case."

Results of Catarrh.

Any person of weak organism, exhibiting symptoms of catarrh or consumption, whether hereditary or acquired, will decrease in weight and become weak, as a result of disturbed nutrition in such cases the patient should receive prompt, active, tonic treatment to promote healthful nutrition and restore the debilitated functions to their normal condition.

Catarrh is the "advance agent" for consumption, and therefore a case, no matter how slight, merits the most careful attention until entirely overcome.

Yellowish expectorations indicate that the bronchial branches in the lungs are becoming affected, and that lung trouble of a serious character is approaching, which will require prompt treatment to relieve it.

Catarrh is the usual cause of consumption. If treated in time, it can be cured. A trained specialist only should be consulted in such grave troubles. Without treatment a person having catarrh rarely ever gets well, except occasionally by a change of climate. The disease unchecked is driven deeper and deeper into the lungs with sledge hammer blows, making successful treatment more difficult, and at last impossible.

Consumption, commonly the result of catarrh, kills fifteen per cent. of the world's population.

IT IS NOT TRUE.

A Sensational Attack Made Upon the Stackhouse Medical Institute.

Falsely Accused of Giving Medicines That Injure the Patient.

There will be found below a copy of an article which appeared in the Morning Times May 23, and a reply to the same:

Mrs. Reinewald, wife of City Clerk Rudy C. Reinewald, is confined to her home seriously and painfully ill. During the five part of last week she was at the Stackhouse Institute for treatment for catarrh. She was given a lotion for application, and after the first dose her throat was so seriously inflamed that she was obliged to call in her regular physician, Dr W. H. Myers, under whose care she has since been. Her palate is very sore, she has temporarily lost her voice and sense of taste, and the membranes of her mouth and throat is sloughing off in small chunks. She was somewhat improved last night, but still suffers severe pain.

Having carefully read the above article, I desire to most emphatically state that it is absolutely false and utterly without foundation in all these parts which reflect upon the skill and success of the physicians of the Stackhouse Medical Institute. My wife is now and has been taking treatment of three doctors, who have greatly benefitted her. Her throat has never been in as bad condition as the above article states, but at the same time it is better since taking the above treatment than it has ever been during the past year. Dr. Myers was called to see my wife before any medicines from the Stackhouse Medical Institute were used. Instead of being displeased, we have full confidence in the treatment which they are giving her and are well pleased with the results.

RUDY C. REINEWALD.

TO THE PUBLIC—Since locating our institute here we have met with ever increasing success and continued abuse.

The former causing the latter, for if we were not succeeding no one would care to attack us.

The article above is only one of several that have appeared in different papers, and all, doubtless, emanate from the same source.

It is not my desire to engage in a mud-slinging contest I consider it more business like and in better taste to let the public, which is our favorite court of appeal, hear the evidence and judge for themselves.

H. STACKHOUSE, M. D.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Why the Article Was Copied in The Journal.

The Attack on the Stackhouse Medical Institute Made in the Morning Times of May 16th, Fully Explained.

The article which appeared in Sunday's Journal, as copied from The Monday Morning Times of the 16th, has been fully explained in a manner that clears the Stackhouse Medical Institute of all odium.

It is no more than justice to the Stackhouse Institute to say that the article copied from the Times, which appeared in last Sunday's Journal, was a paid advertisement inserted by another medical concern.

The following article appeared in "The Monday Morning Times," Monday, May 23d.

Last week's Times contained a lengthy criticism on the Stackhouse Medical Institute, of this city, embodying in it some severe strictures on the methods employed by that institution. The strictures were imposed upon the authority of a gentleman who was taking treatment at the institute and whose testimony was published in the daily papers without his knowledge or consent. The Times published the criticism upon the authority of the gentleman mentioned and therefore has no apology for its publication to make. The gentleman referred to, however, now desires to say that there was a misunderstanding between him self and the consulting physician in reference to the disposition of his testimony after it was taken. He was at that time asked for his photograph, whereupon he said that he would not have his photograph and statement published under any consideration. The physician construed this to be a refusal on his part to have his portrait published, but did not know that the objection also referred to the naked statement. The matter has been amicably adjusted between both parties and the gentleman is continuing his treatment as heretofore, being convinced that the institute intended no breach of faith in making a publication of the statement which he made.—Fort Wayne Journal.

THE FASHIONS!

Who dictates the fashions? Not we, nor any other Merchant—THAT'S WORTH REMEMBERING. Most of our fashions are of French and English importation, and no sooner do they make their appearance and gain a foothold, than they find apt and faithful illustration in the ready-to-wear clothing that goes on our counters. Some dealers would have you believe that THEY dictate fashions. The smaller the dealer the larger the dictation usually, and the greater the nonsense.

As near as it is possible, we follow closely the universal law of fashions, and our clothing is abreast of and in harmony with its mandates.

We see one dealer advertising that "Double-Breasted Suits are out of date" while, as a matter of fact, they are in the zenith of their popularity. That dealer went shy on double-breasted suits and he's trying to hedge, but it won't do; the double-breasted idea has "caught on"—even for boys and little boys' suits—and the public will go where they can get them. As usual, they'll have to come to us to see a comprehensive assortment. In men's suits we are showing some very handsome styles in homespuns, fancy cheviots, cassimeres and kapacks and in boys' suits the variety is exhaustive. If you are in the habit of having your clothes made to order, let us suggest that before you place your order this season you see these ready-to-wear suits of ours. They're correct in all the little tailoring details, beautifully made and sensibly trimmed. We have an idea you'll consider them good enough, and the saving of $10 or $15 will not be an objectionable feature. IT'S WORTH THE EXPERIMENT ANYWAY.

Our Boys' Clothing

Department is the delight of all mothers who take a pride in dressing their boys elegantly and in good taste at a moderate cost. We show more new novelties in boys' wear than all the clothiers in Fort Wayne combined. Base Ball Outfit goes FREE with every suit.

First Communion Suits!

We are showing a large and elegant line at $6, $7, $8, $9.75, $10, $11 and $12. Parents should not fail to see our's before buying.

We have obtained the Sole Agency of Fort Wayne and Allen County for the sale of MELISSA CLOAKS!

Melissa is the greatest discovery of modern times.

A LADY CAN BUY a stylish Cloak, suitable for any season, and while just as porous and light as any cloth can be, it is absolutely water-proof.

THE peculiarity of Melissa is that it has not a particle of rubber in it, nor anything else that the closest scrutiny can detect, and there's the rub.

IT does not cause the unpleasant warmth of rubber or mackintosh garments with their disagreeable odors, and is a greater protection from rain.

COME and examine the goods. You will be astonished and delighted. We have put the prices lower than any other agent in order to introduce the goods. Remember that you actually have two garments in one, being a Cloak and Water-proof garment and a guarantee of satisfaction.
